

Certificate “Counselling in intercultural contexts”

Are you interested in learning processes in intercultural contexts? Would you support language learners with important issues in their learning process in an advisory capacity?

Then the "Counselling in Intercultural Contexts" degree programme is the right choice for you!

The programme includes:

- Theory of counselling in intercultural contexts (10 ECTS)
- Application orientation (5 ECTS)
- Application orientation/practice (3 ECTS)

What can I do with the certificate?

- The programme qualifies you to offer language learning consultations, writing consultations or consultations to promote intercultural skills, e.g. at schools or other educational institutions.
- The certificate offers an additional professional qualification for students who provide counselling in intercultural contexts or who professionally carry out counselling in intercultural contexts in their professional practice.

You can find further information and the current programme on our homepage.
